Mayor Schweller called the work session to order at 6:00 PM.

ROLL CALL

Mr. Hoke, yes; Mr. Havens, yes; Dr. Van Veldhuizen, yes; Mr. Greenwood, yes; Mrs. Middlestetter, yes; Mr. Edwards, yes; Mayor Schweller, yes.

The City Manager began by pointing out that the agenda packet included a condensed version of the Municipal Attorney's CIC presentation as a reference.

Mayor Schweller asked if there was information about the costs to set up a CIC through our legal service. He added that he believed it was relatively inexpensive to set up a corporation and apply for a tax exempted 501C3. Mrs. Dodd answered that she did not know the specific legal cost involved.

Mrs. Dodd explained the research she had collected on CICs in the area including Yellow Springs, Xenia, Greene County, and Fairborn. There is information available on the auditor's website. An item of note is that the Yellow Springs CIC is a collaboration with Miami Township and their school district. They also have representation from other key players in the community like Antioch College, the Chamber of Commerce, and the Yellow Springs Community Foundation. Since the CICs of Yellow Springs and Xenia are new there is less information available. She provided information on the founding of the CICs, their make-up, and notable projects. Links to local news articles about the different CICs was included. There are several articles about the Yellow Springs fire station project which is what sparked the creation of their CIC. The township owned a fire station and then passed a levy to pay for a new station. Once the old station was vacated the CIC was formed to facilitate the sale. The Fairborn and Greene County CICs have been around for a long time. Mrs. Dodd explained how she acquired the information that she thought would be useful for this discussion. She also obtained the legislation from Xenia and Yellow Springs that illustrates how to form the CIC. The City would designate the CIC as the economic development arm by way of a resolution. Then a second resolution contains the articles of incorporation. Through the research the City Manager has made contact with the key people in these other municipalities and can obtain any additional information Council would like to see.

The Fairborn CIC is very active, and the city allots approximately $250,000 to it each year. Some of that money comes from some of their cell tower revenue. The Xenia CIC's purpose is related to the Xenia Town Square Development that has been tied up in a years-long legal battle. This entity ended up taking out $3.3 million worth of bonds to buy it.

An issue to be aware of is that due to the county having a CIC, it will be a political maneuver to be navigated if we want to move forward. Xenia was very careful in addressing that issue when they formed their CIC stating in the resolution that it is set apart in the purpose and handling of the transactions. Greene County sees their CIC as something that serves the entire county, and they want to provide that vehicle. Mrs. Dodd did review their articles of incorporation which states that if they take on any project within your municipality you must have representation on that board. Bellbrook does not currently have representation on their board, but we would get representation if we gave them a project in the city.

Mr. Havens informed everyone a couple of weeks ago he asked a County Commissioner if there was some level of concern at the County level with Bellbrook creating a CIC. His answer boiled down to his desire that it should not be called a "CIC". He recommended calling it the Bellbrook Improvement Corporation or Bellbrook Economic Development Corporation which would satisfy the County's concern. He asked if Mrs. Dodd was told the same thing. Mrs. Dodd answered that the name is something they are sensitive about, that is not the only issue. Looking at Xenia's resolution you can see they made a concerted effort to differentiate what they are doing from what the County does. Mr. Havens added that the Commissioner indicated that Bellbrook should follow Yellow Springs' lead.

RECORD OF PROCEEDINGS

Minutes of Bellbrook City Council Regular Meeting

February 22, 2021

Mayor Schweller added that there is valuable information on CICs in chapter 80 of the Ohio County Commissioner Handbook. It explains industrial revenue bonds as something CICs can do. This is what Xenia is doing. They state there is no taxpayer money being used but the Mayor thinks that the City of Xenia is probably the guarantor of those bonds.

Mr. Havens stated that what he understands from the attorney's presentation and other reading is that a CIC is its own entity. It can take loans out and purchase land. His assumption is that if they did a bond, the City would not have to guarantee it. Mr. Edwards wondered who would invest in a bond like that, adding that maybe there is a market for it. Mayor Schweller said he believed someone was behind it otherwise the bond rating will be so incredibly poor that the interest rate would be more like a junk bond. The City Manager responded that she assumes Xenia took out bonds to purchase land to transfer to the CIC, but this was just started in January.

Mr. Havens said he believes one of the biggest benefits will be allow companies to pitch their ideas for different businesses in our downtown under a non-disclosure agreement with the CIC which they can not do with the City presently because that would be public information. He gave the example of the fire department building in Yellow Springs that was opened up for bidding. Several businesses put together business plans without having to let their private business ideas become public.

Mr. Edwards said he needs to study this issue since Bellbrook does not have any properties that fit that description. Council has talked speculatively that there could be property for sale in the future. He would like to know about the plan for a CIC before discussing how it would be funded. Mr. Havens said the properties that come to his mind are the downtown fire station, sign shop, service building, and salt barn. He added that those are prime business properties. Mr. Edwards countered that all of the properties are currently occupied, and he would be reluctant to have the departments in those buildings under someone else's control. Mr. Havens stated that we would have control. Mr. Edwards answered that from looking at the makeup of some of the other city's boards, they are not made up of city employees. There are residents on these boards. For example, if the board was made up of five people only two would be from the City or Council. Mr. Havens said Council can detail how the CIC has to operate. He added that of the four properties he outlined there would be $2, $3, or maybe $4 million in value that would generate plenty of funds to rebuild the Service Department building elsewhere.

Minutes of Bellbrook City Council Regular Meeting

Mr. Hoke explained that the CICs have not been established as charities since the 1960s. They are created with a financial return in mind that we should scrutinize. He asked if the reservation about establishing the CIC is because it could possibly consume taxpayer dollars. He pointed out that there would be a return on the investment and increased revenue for the City.

Mr. Edwards opined that long term he could see a return but believes there is no way those properties would bring in $4 million. There would be a cost to the City and the taxpayers. Until there is a better plan including taxpayer approval for the Service and Fire Department buildings, we could do the paperwork but why?

Mr. Havens said we could design the CIC to do the economic development that the City can not do. Centerville has a Marketing Department and staff that Bellbrook does not have. We can set the parameters. Council can say a business can have the property in the event that they build the new spaces. CICs have the ability to lease property and enter into real estate agreements. An example would be to set a lease for three or four businesses to occupy the existing buildings. This would generate enough revenue to make the payment on another building that they could then execute for us. We could get some smart people in here that know economic development, business finance, major real estate deals, marketing, public relations, and other skills. We do not have to do it ourselves. The CIC would be another arm similar to the Planning Board and the Village Review Board. We do not have to settle for businesses that could potentially purchase those properties by being the highest bidder. Sooner or later the City will be moving the departments out of their existing spaces. He pointed out that the salt would be easy to move and put under a tent-like structure.

Mr. Greenwood said it could be beneficial to set up the legislation to be ready. He pointed out that the proposal Council heard about the consolidated fire station explained the thinking behind eliminating the downtown station. He agrees that if you put the building the downtown fire station is currently in on the market, we would not make much money. He also worries that if you list that building with a real estate agent anyone could purchase it and store junk in it. He told of how Mr. Chappelle bought the Yellow Springs fire station providing a better profit than a normal listing.

Mayor Schweller added that the Township is provided a guarantee of $320,000 from a sale. If that works out it is good.

Mayor Schweller asked how Council felt the initial funding could be gathered. He asked if it would be through fundraising. If so, it would be a benefit to start up a 501C3 where individuals could donate and deduct the charitable donation. Mrs. Middlestetter remembers Mr. McHugh answering the funding question that it would come from the City, which means the taxpayers. She asked if someone could explain other options because she would not be in favor of using property tax dollars to support a CIC.

Mr. Hoke stated that a conservative approach could be taken. The intent is that it is not spending taxpayer money, it is investing it. He added that Council could look at the case studies to determine their return on investment. He said he would not dismiss it just because we need to put dollars into it because that is short-sighted. Mr. Edwards asked what the return is. Mr. Hoke advised him not to be dismissive automatically. He pointed to the returns Xenia, Beavercreek, and Yellow Springs are getting.

Mr. Edwards said he understands why those cities are doing it and it is not because they do not like the look of their downtown or want to make it prettier. They are doing it because, like Beavercreek who also does not have an income tax, there is a lot of undeveloped land for potential housing developments. What would Bellbrook get out of it except possibly some nice, new businesses that do not provide anything to the City monetarily but do provide aesthetics and something for our citizens to frequent.

Mr. Hoke stated that every resident he talks to asks what City Council can do to revitalize downtown as the number one issue. This could be our response to what those residents are asking for. Mrs. Middlestetter asked him to explain what he means by “revitalize downtown”. Mr. Hoke said we need something that would cause people to come downtown. How can we ask for a levy if there is a crisis? He believes if we had a decent downtown that people identified as their community it might be easier to get them to buy in. He added that if the downtown is allowed to stay as it is the decay will continue.

Mrs. Middlestetter asked what kind of business they want to attract besides a brewery or restaurant. In her opinion the types of businesses that could afford what we are talking about are engineering and technical companies but those are not the kinds of businesses that draw people downtown. We also need the entertainment businesses, but she wonders when people say they want to see our downtown revitalized what he envisions. Mr. Hoke pointed to other nearby cities that are revitalizing like Loveland, Milford, Spring Valley, or Xenia. Mr. Edwards agrees that it is a good idea, but the execution is very important. Of course, people will say they would like to have more businesses downtown, but if we ask if they would be willing to pay $1,000 more a year in property taxes to build a new firehouse, he believes they would say no. Mr. Havens said that is not what is being discussed because we are not asking for any money, we are asking to establish a CIC. Mr. Edwards commented that they are skewing the issue by saying that the land is worth $4 million when it is not. Mr. Havens recommended having those buildings appraised and look at where we could build those buildings outside of downtown. He added that Bellbrook has great demographics and as for what is in it for the City as far as revenue, a brewery uses an enormous amount of water from which the City receives revenues. He pointed to Yellow Springs that started their CIC with $12,000 and he offered go find the money if that is the stipulation. He recounted a conversation with a County Commissioner who said they were sitting on millions of dollars that they are looking to spend. Mr. Havens believes they are likely to throw money at us to get it started. Mr. Havens also spoke to other business options such as non-traditional bowling centers called candlestick and duck pin bowling. There are six of these in Cincinnati.

Mrs. Middlestetter asked if we are under the Greene County CIC why we couldn't we become a part of their CIC and not have to set up our own? Mr. Havens responded that the Commissioner asked him that question. His answer was that Council represents our residents and he believes it would not be wise of us to bring in people from the County to make decisions for our City. That is why he recommended calling it the Bellbrook Development Corporation. Mayor Schweller added that in Xenia's case they have representation on the Board of Commissioners plus six at-large members, so it is not just the County Commissioners.

The Mayor relayed his experience as a downtown business owner from 1986 through the 1991 and he struggled due to the fact that Bellbrook is not a through-town it is more of a destination. Several years ago, there were a couple of business looking develop or locate in Bellbrook and he asked the City Manager to try to find that information. Mr. Hoke stated that it is different now as people no longer want to go to a mall. Mayor Schweller added that we need to ensure we treat our existing businesses fairly.

Mr. Havens stated that conditions have changed in the last decade. The average home income in Bellbrook/Sugarcreek Township at $119,000 now exceeds that of Oakwood at $103,000 making Bellbrook very attractive.

The Mayor pointed to the time and asked Council if they would like to pick up the conversation at another time or if they thought a vote should be taken. Mrs. Middlestetter stated she wants to know more before voting either way. The City Manager interjected that the Finance Committee has been tasked with reviewing this topic and they have not had a chance to meet yet. The Finance Committee is Mr. Edwards, Mr. Havens, and Dr. Van Veldhuizen. Mayor Schweller wants Council to come to a unanimous decision one way or the other.

Mr. Edwards made a motion to adjourn the work session and Mrs. Middlestetter seconded. All were in favor and the motion passed.

MAYOR'S ANNOUNCEMENTS

- Police Department Annual Report

Police Chief Doug Doherty presented the report. He started by saying how 2020 was year like no other but he was really proud of how the Department and the City responded. The first item is Administrative Objectives. They have continued their work with the Office of Criminal Justice Service which sets standards through the Attorney General's office and continued to meet the new requirements every year. Due to COVID-19 patrol tactics were modified to minimize contact with the citizens while still maintain a police presence that would provide safety and security to everyone. There were two members who contracted COVID-19 and two that had to take time off as caregivers. The normal community events were all cancelled so they interacted more with social media.

Patrol Objectives had to be modified and included new safety protocols involving taking temperatures and new cleaning procedures. The Department plans to add an additional bike patrol officer in 2021. There is no state mandated continuing education standard for 2021. However, BPD will strive to match the previous year's training hours. A gunshot training will be taking place soon. Also, the Department uses Lexipol which is online training including a daily bulletin that all officers complete.

The effects of the pandemic are clearly seen in the Traffic Enforcement numbers which are dramatically down from years past. Crime Statistics show an increase in felony filings from three in 2019 to seven in 2020. Other areas were down such as vandalism and domestic crime. Criminal damaging was up due in large part to the volatile election year.

The Department firmly believes in the benefits of the Ohio Collaborative Community Police Advisory Board (OCLEAC). The BPD meets or exceed the following OCLEAC standards:

- Safe Policing for Safe Communities
- Use of Force

RECORD OF PROCEEDINGS

- Recruitment and Hiring
- Community Engagement
- Body Worn Camera Systems
- Bias-Free Policing
- Investigation of Employee Misconduct

In 2021 policies will be submitted for Vehicular Pursuit Procedures and Crowd/Riot Control and Response to demonstrations. The Department follow the county-wide pursuit policy. Beginning mid-year 2020, BPD began tracking race statistics to meet the standard for Bias-Based Policing and Traffic Stop Data.

Bellbrook officers used force two times last year. The use of a taser and a firearm were for the same incident involving a charging dog. The incident was found to be justified.

Two new employees have been hired including Part-Time Officer Kevin Long and Administrative Assistant Christine Florea.

Mayor Schweller thanked the Chief for his report and asked for some more information on Lexapol. Chief Doherty explained that it is a policy and training software program that provides updates on policies and training bulletins. Officers are responsible for logging in to the program every day at the start of their shift to read the daily “Bulletin”.

Mr. Greenwood asked if there is something BPD is doing that has attributed to the good racial interaction data. Chief Doherty explained this last summer was cause for attention to be paid to police practices around the country and how they can prevent racial issues from becoming dangerous. He believes that you should always treat people the way you want to be treated. That can be seen in his hiring practices that reflect the value system and character he tries to personify.

Mr. Havens commended the Chief on the department’s social media especially the snowblower training they posted. The Chief said there were 2,500 views of that post.

Mr. Hoke thanked the Chief and asked how the drug related crimes that peaked in 2017 with 68 and goes down to 9 in 2020. Chief replied that it wasn’t anything the department has done. They work with the Xenia task force.

The City Manager explained that the resolution had been tabled at the previous meeting to allow for two questions to be answered. The City Attorney sent his replies. The first concern was the liability in terms of the gate slowing down a City employee needing to get through the gate. The attorney responded that although it is not impossible for someone to file a lawsuit, but the City should be immune from that type of lawsuit. There are some exceptions to sovereign immunity, but he does not believe those would apply. The other concern was about the liability insurance and it was determined that the amount required is sufficient.

Mr. Glenn Costie, representative from the Sable Ridge HOA, thanked Council and he appreciates the support in clarifying the maintenance question.

OLD BUSINESS – Composition of future minutes

The Clerk provided a definition, Ohio law, Sunshine law, and Ohio Municipal Clerks Association (OMCA) best practices concerning minutes. She explained that there had been discussion concerning the level of detail included in the meeting minutes. Staff uses the minutes on a regular basis to research issues and upcoming legislation. Her recommendation is to continue with the current procedure. Mrs. Dodd added that minutes are used often including researching the history of the Sable Ridge gate.

Mr. Edwards said he believes the minutes are fine but believes some clarification is needed since it has been brought up. He believes there was a question of corrections to the minutes concerning context and intent of the speaker. If I review the minutes and do not feel my intent was clearly portrayed, I can say so at the next meeting. That clarification becomes part of the record of the new meeting. There should not be revisions to the previous minutes unless it is clearly a mistake or grammatical error.

RECORD OF PROCEEDINGS
Minutes of Bellbrook City Council Regular Meeting
February 22, 2021

Mrs. Middlestetter and Mr. Greenwood agree that they like the minutes as the Clerk has been preparing them.

Mr. Havens added that the particular meeting in question contained many personal opinions and sometimes paraphrasing does not catch the same meaning. Since the minutes are a permanent record he stated that accuracy is very important to him. The times are changing and people are keying in on every word that is said or agreed to. He asked the City Manager specifically about her research of the minutes pertaining to the Sable Ridge gate and if those meetings were recorded or videotaped. Mrs. Dodd answered that she probably could have tried to watch the cable recording or the audio recording but that would have been very difficult and time consuming. It is much more effective to search the agendas to determine which meetings were involved. Then search those meeting minutes and find the precise conversations needed. Mrs. Timmons added that only Council meetings are video recorded. Board meetings are only recorded on audio. This has changed temporarily due to the pandemic when the meetings started taking place via Zoom and livestreamed on YouTube. Mr. Havens pointed to that fact and the unlikely possibility of the recordings being lost as the reason for the importance of the accuracy of the minutes since that is the record that will last and be used in the future. Mrs. Timmons agreed as even though the audio and video recordings are kept forever, the technology has changed it would be difficult to go back to review the older formats.

The Clerk added that she relies on Council to carefully review the minutes and identify any mistakes. Mrs. Dodd also added that sometimes people give wrong information and that is still out there on the recordings forever. If there is an error and no one points it out it will remain whether the speaker knew the information was wrong or not.

CITY MANAGER REPORT

Mrs. Dodd thanked Police Chief Doherty for the great work they do every day.

The Mayor asked if Council Members wished to attend. Several did reply affirmatively. As this will be an official meeting of Council, the Mayor asked if the Clerk could be in attendance to take minutes. The Clerk responded that she would attend.
